Today's SCOTUS decision is a win for the American people and the safety of our communities. The Biden Administration exploited Temporary Protected Status to let half a million poorly vetted migrants into this country—from MS-13 gang members to known terrorists and murderers.

The Trump Administration is reinstating integrity into our immigration system to keep our homeland and its people safe.

The SCOTUS decision reaffirms what we've known: weak leadership like Biden's turned TPS into a revolving door for unvetted migrants, endangering communities. Trump's policies, like the CBP Home App and Remain in Mexico, are restoring order by prioritizing deportations of criminal poorly vetted migrants," including "MS-13 gang members, known terrorists and murderers." This is classic guilt-by-association, designed to paint the entire TPS cohort as dangerous criminals, when the actual reality is that TPS recipients are heavily vetted and overwhelmingly ordinary people fleeing crises.

Gille @btgille · May 19

- Fact: TPS (Temporary Protected Status) is granted to nationals from countries deemed unsafe due to war, disaster, or state collapse. Each recipient is vetted and must reapply regularly. There's no evidence that the population includes the cartoonish level of "terrorists and murderers" implied.
- 2. Weaponizing "Integrity": "Institutionalizing integrity" is PR-speak for mass deportation and the stripping of legal protections. It's meant to sound like restoring order, but in practice it's about reversing humanitarian policy, ignoring due process, and unleashing ICE on families who have lived in the US for years.
- 3. Court as Policy Weapon:
By highlighting that even "liberal" justices sided with Trump (it was actually an 8-1 decision), they're laundering the extremism of the policy through the supposed "neutrality" of the Supreme Court. The real function is to say: "See? Even the libs agree—deportation is the law."
- Note: Emergency "shadow docket" decisions like this often lack full arguments and public scrutiny, making them ripe for political abuse.
- 4. Media-Government Symbiosis:
The segment features a DHS spokesperson on Fox, but the entire message is indistinguishable from MAGA campaign ad. Official government communications now parrot the talking points of partisan right-wing media. The line between policy and propaganda is erased.
- 5. Dehumanization as Policy:
This is about more than migration. It's about setting a precedent: whole categories of people can be criminalized, stripped of rights, and removed by decree. The message to citizens: "You're only safe if we're allowed to do whatever it takes to the outsiders." That logic will be turned inward soon enough.
- 6. Immediate Consequences:
The post ends with "deportations will happen immediately." There is no nod to process, no acknowledgment of appeals, hardship, or humanity. The system is a machine—numbers in, numbers out, lives destroyed.

Bottom line:
This is how regime change happens in a democracy: legal tools become weapons; media and state merge, and fear is manufactured as an excuse for mass exclusion. The cruelty isn't a byproduct—it's the point, and it's being sold as "integrity."

If you want a deeper read on the actual legal mechanics, a detailed fact-check, or a compare/contrast with past immigration regimes, just say the word.

- Joe Tinman @JoeFlanagan86166 · May 20 Stay the off of LIBERAL FOX NEWS. Go to Newsmax. FUCK FOX NEWS
- Marie @MN_Meee · May 20 I assume this now means that you'll start accusing people of being Venezuelan and deport them without checking their citizenship status?
- KINGOFDEMENTIA @MichaelCM90808 · May 20 It's a win for ICE and their terrorist leaders in homeland security time to shut you down
- Comrade Ryan @RyanTheComrade · May 20 No the Biden administration did not do this. You know that. Stop gaslighting the American public.
- DeBee2020 @Bee2020De · May 30 Democrats are desperate for new voters. Why should American Citizens pay the price?
